The number of appeals owng taken from the valuations of the assessors is but increasing although property owners have until Saturday to get them thut the lands of Chy Clerk Bader, and have been assumed that this time hint would not be a but to the thing of protests. It is certain that council will not conclude its beautins in three days.

It is said that a large percentage of the appeals are based on alleged inequalities which exist. This, too, is in the face of the fact that virtually the only defense made of the assessment so far is that, it is the most equitable that has yet been made. Unfortunately for those who feel they have been discriminated against, connect is apparently willing to hear

Make-Room Sale of Winter Millinery

Half, Near Half and Fourth Off Prices on Certain Hats and Untrimmed Shapes to Reduce Millinery Stocks for Room for a "Christmas Shop" in That Part of the Store.

When announcement is made of lowered prices on Wright-Metzler Millinery, the women that know the store and stock are not slow to take advantage if her needs and the sale comes together. Reductions are real, here; and the price-difference is so much saved.

Our hats are not cheapened by a lower price; nor are they cheap in the sense that materials or making are secand or third rate. What we have is fashionable and good; and what we do on the other side of the workroom barrier is excellently done. Our designers and workers are exert, numble-fingered and style-schooled: and our hats, whether made here or elsewhere, are style-perfect, material-perfect and fit. "Cheap" hats are never admitted here; and the woman that argues that hats are hats has certainly never made comparison with ours.
